NEW QUESTION: 1

Which of the following is a primary concern of confidentiality in a cloud environment?

- A. Data integrity
- B. Data availability
- C. Data access
- D. Data security

Answer: B

Explanation:

While the main focus of confidentiality revolves around technological requirements or particular security methods, an important and often overlooked aspect of safeguarding data confidentiality is appropriate and comprehensive training for those with access to it. Training should be focused on the safe handling of sensitive information overall, including best practices for network activities as well as physical security of the devices or workstations used to access the application.
