NEW QUESTION: 2
Refer to Scenario 3.
"A US company has deployed web services within a private cloud.
They wish to provide additional web services elastically and distribute them around the globe using a public cloud provider.
The web services have a dependency on a database resource in the private cloud. The web services are deployed through a service catalog as a standardized service offering, which includes an intrusion prevention system that periodically polls a central management server for security updates. The IPS management server is located within the private cloud.
The web services collect highly regulated personal health information about consumers who are located around the world."
In your analysis, you find that a different hypervisor is being used by the public cloud provider.
As the enterprise elastically provisions resources, what is a possible solution if the hypervisors are different?
A. Shut down services before migrating to the public cloud.
B. Use a second service catalog to deploy the current service template in the public cloud.
C. Recalibrate the current service template and deploy it in the public cloud.
