NEW QUESTION: 1

Click the Exhibit button. -- Exhibit-

-- Exhibit -

Referring to the topology shown in the exhibit, which two configuration tasks will allow Host A to telnet to the public IP address associated with Server B? (Choose two.)

- A. Configure a stateless filter redirecting local traffic destined to Server B's public IP address.
- B. Configure a source NAT rule that matches local traffic destined to Server B's public IP address.
- C. Configure transparent mode to bypass the NAT processing of Server B's public IP address.
- D. Configure a destination NAT rule that matches local traffic destined to Server B's public IP address.

Answer: B,D

Explanation:

In this scenario we have a host be accessible on the Internet by one address, but have it be translated to another address when it initiates connections out to the Internet. So we need to combine Source and destination NAT.

NEW QUESTION: 4

Note: This question is part of a series of questions that present the same scenario. Each question in the series contains a unique solution that might meet the stated goals. Some question sets might have more than one correct solution, while others might not have a correct solution.

After you answer a question in this section, you will NOT be able to return to it. As a result, these questions will not appear in the review screen.

You are developing a website that will run as an Azure Web App. Users will authenticate by using their Azure Active Directory (Azure AD) credentials.

You plan to assign users one of the following permission levels for the website: admin, normal, and reader. A user's Azure AD group membership must be used to determine the permission level.

You need to configure authorization.

Solution:

Create a new Azure AD application. In the application's manifest, define application roles that match the required permission levels for the application.

Assign the appropriate Azure AD group to each role. In the website, use the value of the roles claim from the JWT for the user to determine permissions.

Does the solution meet the goal?

A. Yes

B. No

Answer: B

Explanation:

To configure Manifest to include Group Claims in Auth Token Go to Azure Active Directory to configure the Manifest. Click on Azure Active Directory, and go to App registrations to find your application:

Click on your application (or search for it if you have a lot of apps) and edit the Manifest by clicking on it.

Locate the "groupMembershipClaims" setting. Set its value to either "SecurityGroup" or "All". To help you decide which:

"SecurityGroup" - groups claim will contain the identifiers of all security groups of which the user is a member.

"All" - groups claim will contain the identifiers of all security groups and all distribution lists of which the user is a member Now your application will include group claims in your manifest and you can use this fact in your code.
