A network administrator is setting up a wireless network secured by 802.1X authentication in EAP mode with an HP BYOD solution. What is an important concept to remember when configuring a Windows laptop to access the wireless network?

- A. User Access Manager can self-generate its own certificate, and this kind of certificate does not need any validation.
- B. Root certificates from a Certificate Authority are not needed. The laptop will validate the RADIUS certificate using its client certificate.

C. To automatically validate a certificate sent by User Access Manager (UAM), a client must have a root certificate from the Certificate Authority that issued the UAM certificate

D. Do not validate any certificates sent by the RADIUS server. This may cause security issues.

Answer: B

NEW QUESTION: 3

Which of the following is a risk that is higher when an electronic funds transfer EFT system is used?

A. Inadequate bad -ups and disaster recovery procedures.

B. Improper change control procedures.

C. Unauthorized access and activity.

D. Insufficient online edit checks.

Answer: C

Explanation:

Unauthorized access to money transfer activities or data is an inherent and unique risk of EFT systems. An unauthorized person may attempt to read, alter, or delete information in data files or to enter authorized fund transfers. Hence, in the financial services industry, protection of confidential customer transactions is especially important. Moreover, unauthorized transfers subject a financial institution to a direct risk of serious loss.
