NEW QUESTION: 1A. Option DB. Option CC. Option BD. Option EE. Option AF. Option F
Answer: BExplanation:- Within the Azure Portal screen, scroll down to Recovery Services (on the left menu), and click on "Create a New Vault" (this is where your VMs will be replicated to) which will bring up a Data Services / Recovery Services / Site Recovery Vault option, select Quick Create - For the name of the Vault, give it something you'd remember, in my case, I'll call it RandsVault, and I'll choose the Region West US since I'm in the Western United States, then click Create Vault - Once the Vault has been created, click on the Right Arrow next to the name of your vault. Under Setup Recovery, choose "Between an on-premise site and Microsoft Azure" so that you are telling the configuration settings that you are going to be replicating between your on-premise datacenter and Azure in the cloud. - You will now see a list of things you need to do which the first thing is to create a key exchange of certificates between Microsoft Azure and your VMM server. Reference: Leveraging Microsoft Azure as your disaster recovery/failover data center

NEW QUESTION: 2You have an application hosted on a Compute Engine virtual machine instance that cannot communicate with a resource outside of its subnet. When you review the flow and firewall logs, you do not see any denied traffic listed. During troubleshooting you find:- Flow logs are enabled for the VPC subnet, and all firewall rules are set to log.- The subnet logs are not excluded from Stackdriver.- The instance that is hosting the application can communicate outside the subnet.- Other instances within the subnet can communicate outside the subnet.- The external resource initiates communication. What is the most likely cause of the missing log lines?A. The traffic is not matching the expected ingress rule.B. The traffic is matching the expected ingress rule.C. The traffic is not matching the expected egress rule.D. The traffic is matching the expected egress rule.Answer: A

NEW QUESTION: 3 You need to create a virtual machine template for the web servers used by the CRM application. The solution must meet the virtualization requirements. What should you use?A. A virtual hard disk (VHD)B. A Windows PowerShell scriptC. An .iso imageD. A virtual machineAnswer: A

Explanation:
Explanation/Reference: Explanation: The company identifies the following virtualization requirements: Minimize the number of permissions and privileges assigned to users Ensure that the members of a group named Group2 can add a WSUS server to the fabric Ensure that a diagram view of the virtualization environment can be generated dynamically Minimize the amount of administrative effort required to manage the virtualization environment Prevent the failure of a front-end web server from affecting the availability of the CRM application Ensure that the members of a group named Group1 can create new virtual machines in the Los Angeles office only Only create virtual machine templates by using objects that already exist in the System Center 2012 Virtual Machine Manager (VMM) library On the failover cluster in the main office, apply limited distribution release (LDR) updates to the virtualization hosts without disrupting the virtual machines hosted on the virtualization hosts A Virtual Machine Manager template provides a standardized group of hardware and software settings that can be used repeatedly to create new virtual machines configured with those settings. In Library view in the Administrator Console, you can use the New template action to open the New Template Wizard used to create a virtual machine template. Although you can use a number of methods to create a template, you cannot create a template that does not include an operating system. Virtual Machine Manager supports the use of either Windows Server 2003 or Windows 2000 Server. If you want to create a virtual machine with a blank virtual hard disk on which you install an operating system later, you must use the New Virtual Machine Wizard that is described in this topic.
