NEW QUESTION: 1
What limitations are present with PMK caching (or PMKSA caching) when 802.1X/EAP authentication is in use?
A. PMK caching can only retain PMKSAs once they are present, but it can not create new PMKSAs without a full 802.1X/EAP authentication nor can it distribute an existing PMKSA to other APs.
B. PMK caching allows to fast roaming between APs when they are managed by a single controller, but it does not support inter-controller handoffs
C. PMK caching may only be supported when the authentication server (SA) is collocated with the authenticator, as with WLAN controllers using an internal RADIUS server.

D. PMK caching has a maximum PMKSA storage threshold of five keys, which limits the fast roaming capability to a mobility group of five APs.
Answer: B
Explanation:
Pre-authentication and PMK caching allows for an AP to pre-authenticate a client which in turn will allow for faster roaming between APs PMK caching is sometimes calledfast secure roam - backbecause the client station is able to roam back to the original AP and skip the 802.1X/EAP exchange. This is great if a client station roams back to an AP where it shares a PMKSA, but how does this speed things up when the client station roams to a new AP? The short answer is there will not be a cached PMK on the target AP unless preauthentication has occurred.

If multiple WLAN controllers are used, this becomes even more complex. There is no real defi nition of how keys should be exchanged between controllers; therefore, intercontroller handoff protocols are entirely proprietary.

SIMULATION
Use the following login credentials as needed:
Azure Username: xxxxx
Azure Password: xxxxx
The following information is for technical support purposes only:
Lab Instance: 10543936

You plan to enable Azure Multi-Factor Authentication (MFA).
You need to ensure that can manage any databases hosted on an Azure SQL server named SQL10543936 by signing in using his Azure Active Directory (Azure AD) user account.
To complete this task, sign in to the Azure portal.
A. Provision an Azure Active Directory administrator for your managed instance Each Azure SQL server (which hosts a SQL Database or SQL Data Warehouse) starts with a single server administrator account that is the administrator of the entire Azure SQL server. A second SQL Server administrator must be created, that is an Azure AD account. This principal is created as a contained database user in the master database.
1. In the Azure portal, in the upper-right corner, select your connection to drop down a list of possible Active Directories.
Choose the correct Active Directory as the default Azure AD.
This step links the subscription-associated Active Directory with Azure SQL server making sure that the same subscription is used for both Azure AD and SQL Server. (The Azure SQL server can be hosting either Azure SQL Database or Azure SQL Data Warehouse.)

2. Search for and select the SQL server SQL10543936

3. In SQL Server page, select Active Directory admin.
4. In the Active Directory admin page, select Set admin.

5. In the Add admin page, search for user , select it, and then select Select. (The Active Directory admin page shows all members and groups of your Active Directory. Users or groups that are grayed out cannot be selected because they are not supported as Azure AD administrators.

6. At the top of the Active Directory admin page, select SAVE.
