NEW QUESTION: 1
You have an Auto Scaling group associated with an Elastic Load Balancer (ELB).
You have noticed that instances launched via the Auto Scaling group are being marked unhealthy due to an ELB health check, but these unhealthy instances are not being terminated. What do you need to do to ensure trial instances marked unhealthy by the ELB will be terminated and replaced?
A. Add an Elastic Load Balancing health check to your Auto Scaling group
B. Change the thresholds set on the Auto Scaling group health check
C. Increase the value for the Health check interval set on the Elastic Load Balancer
D. Change the health check set on the Elastic Load Balancer to use TCP rather than HTTP checks
Answer: A
Explanation:
http://docs.aws.amazon.com/AutoScaling/latest/DeveloperGuide/as-add-elb-healthcheck.html Add an Elastic Load Balancing Health

Check to your Auto Scaling GroupBy default, an Auto Scaling group periodically reviews the results of EC2 instance status to determine the health state of each instance. However, if you have associated your Auto Scaling group with an Elastic Load Balancing load balancer, you can choose to use the Elastic Load Balancing health check. In this case, Auto Scaling determines the health status of your instances by checking the results of both the EC2 instance status check and the Elastic Load Balancing instance health check.

For information about EC2 instance status checks, see Monitor Instances With Status Checks in the Amazon EC2 User Guide for Linux Instances. For information about Elastic Load Balancing health checks, see Health Check in the Elastic Load Balancing Developer Guide.

This topic shows you how to add an Elastic Load Balancing health check to your Auto Scaling group, assuming that you have created a load balancer and have registered the load balancer with your Auto Scaling group. If you have not registered the load balancer with your Auto Scaling group, see Set Up a Scaled and Load-Balanced Application.

Auto Scaling marks an instance unhealthy if the calls to the Amazon EC2 action DescribeInstanceStatus return any state other than running, the system status shows impaired, or the calls to Elastic Load Balancing action DescribeInstanceHealth returns OutOfService in the instance state field.

If there are multiple load balancers associated with your Auto Scaling group, Auto Scaling checks the health state of your EC2 instances by making health check calls to each load balancer. For each call, if the Elastic Load Balancing action returns any state other than InService, the instance is marked as unhealthy. After Auto Scaling marks an instance as unhealthy, it remains in that state, even if subsequent calls from other load balancers return an InService state for the same instance.

NEW QUESTION: 3
You are a functional consultant for Contoso Entertainment System USA (USMF).
The pallets used by USMF can contain 12 boxes.

You need to create a unit of conversion for the boxes.
To complete this task, sign in to the Dynamics 365 portal.
Answer:
Explanation:
See explanation below.
Explanation
You need to create a unit of measure for the pallet and another unit of measure for the box (if they don't already exist). Then you create a unit conversion.
Create a unit of measure for pallet and box:
* Go to Navigation pane > Modules > Released product maintenance.
* Click Units.
* Click New.
* In the Unit field, type a value. Enter the ID or symbol to use when referring to the unit of measure
* In the Description field, type a value such as . Enter a descriptive name for the unit of measure in the system language.
* In the Unit class field, select
* In the Decimal precision field, enter a number. Specify the number of decimals that the converted unit of measure must be rounded to when a calculation is completed for the unit of measure.
* Click Save.
* Repeat the above steps for Box.
Define unit conversion rules
* On the Action Pane, click Unit conversions. Define rules for converting the unit of measure to and from other units of measure in the selected unit class.
* Click New to open the drop dialog.
* In the Factor field, enter 12. Conversion factor between the From unit (Pallet) and the To unit (Box).
* In the To unit field, select Box.
* In the Rounding field, select To nearest.
* Click OK.
* Close the page.

NEW QUESTION: 4
You have modified your tax setup and want to test the changes on actual Payables transactions. How do you validate before enabling for transaction?
A. by using Tax Simulator to test
B. by creating accounting in draft mode
C. by creating a payable invoice, and by validating and reviewing the tax application
D. Oracle Transactional Business Intelligence (OTBI)

E. by changing the tax status to test and then entering a payables invoice

Answer: A

Explanation:

Run taxes from all applicable tax regimes against a sample transaction to verify that your tax configuration and tax rules were created and applied according to yourrequirements. You can either create a sample transaction within Tax Simulator or copy an existing transaction. The simulated tax calculations do not affect live data.

Note:The Tax Simulator is a tool for simulating the tax determination process in your tax setup. The Tax Simulator lets you preview the workings of your tax configuration before you perform tax calculations on live transactions in a subledger application. TheTax Simulator also allows you to test new tax configuration in conjunction with existing tax configuration to preview the resulting tax calculation. The Tax Simulator is a useful tool to identify the root cause when tax calculation is not what is expectedon live data.
