NEW QUESTION: 2 After implementing the IKEv2 tunnel, it was observed that remote users on the 192.168.33.0/24 network are unable to access the internet. Which of the following can be done to resolve this problem?
A. Change the remote traffic selector on the headquarter ASA to 0.0.0.0/0
B. Change the Diffie-Hellman group on the headquarter ASA to group5 for the dynamic crypto map
C. Change to an IKEv1 configuration since IKEv2 does not support a full tunnel with static peers
D. Change the local traffic selector on the headquarter ASA to 0.0.0.0/0
E. Change the remote traffic selector on the remote ASA to 192.168.22.0/24
Answer: E
Explanation: The traffic selector is used to determine which traffic should be protected (encrypted over the IPsec tunnel). We want this to be specific, otherwise Internet traffic will also be sent over the tunnel and most likely dropped on the remote side. Here, we just want to protect traffic from 192.168.33.0/24 to 192.168.22.0/24.

NEW QUESTION: 3 Refer to the exhibit. What does the return code 3 represent in this output?
A. The replying router was the proper egress for the FEC.
B. The packet is label-switched at stack depth.
C. The upstream index is unknown.
D. The return code is reserved.
E. The mapping of the replying router for the FEC is different.
Answer: A
Explanation: Return Codes
The Return Code is set to zero by the sender. The receiver can set it to one of the values listed below. The notation <RSC> refers to the Return Subcode. This field is filled in with the stack-depth for those codes that specify that. For all other codes, the Return Subcode MUST be set to zero.
Value Meaning

0 No return code
1 Malformed echo request received
2 One or more of the TLVs was not understood
3 Replying router is an egress for the FEC at stack-depth <RSC>
4 Replying router has no mapping for the FEC at stack-depth <RSC>
