NEW QUESTION: 3

You have a server named Server1 that runs Windows Server 2012. A network technician installs a new disk onServer1 and creates a new volume. The properties of the new volume.

You need to ensure that you can restore files on volume D by using the Previous Versions tab.

What should you do first?

- A. Convert the disk to a dynamic disk.
- B. Install the File Server Resource Manager role service.
- C. Format volume D.
- D. Run the convert.exe command.

Answer: C

Explanation:

Shadow Copies for Shared Folders is activated at the volume level.

The volume to be enabled for shadow copies must use NTFS and can be saved either on a basic disk or adynamic disk.

Assigning a drive letter to the volume is optional; an NTFS volume with shadow copy enabled can be mountedas a folder on another NTFS volume.

You can only enable Shadow Copies of Shared Folders on a per-volume basis; that is, you cannot selectspecific shared folders and files on a volume to be copied or not copied. By default, the shadow copies will bestored on the volume that is being copied (the source volume). If you have more than one drive available onyour server, you should use a separate volume on another disk to store the shadow copies.

This eliminates thepossibility that high input/output (I/O) load will cause shadow copies to be deleted. This is the recommended configuration for heavily used file servers.
