NEW QUESTION: 1

- A. Option B
- B. Option C
- C. Option D
- D. Option A
- E. Option E

Answer: A,B,C

Explanation:

Some of the features supported by Server App-V are the following:

Windows Services: Server App-V includes the possibility to virtualize Windows Services in a different approach than the one we've seen in Desktop App-V. With Server App-V, the service is installed and placed in the OS as a normal installation of the server application.

This way we can monitor it as any local service.

Web applications hosted in IIS: We can virtualize web applications entirely (web sites, virtual directories and application pools) on IIS 6, IIS 7 and IIS 7.5.

WMI: Server App-V Sequencer also captures the WMI providers and/or classes created during an installation.

SQL Services Reporting Services: Even though SQL Server engine is not supported for virtualization, the applications that install SQL Services Reporting Services (SSRS) are supported.

COM/DCOM/COM+ objects: These components are registered in the deployment process, this way other applications in the server can access them.

Local users and Groups: If the application is creating users and/or groups during the installation, the Server App-V Sequencer captures it and maintains, including SID, for next deployments.

Not all applications are supported for use with Server App-V. Applications such as antivirus software that require device or kernel driver support are not supported. Server App-V is primarily designed for use with business applications or the business tiers of multi-tiered applications. Consequently some large server applications such as Microsoft Exchange Server, Microsoft SQL Server, and Microsoft SharePoint are not supported. While there is no list of supported applications for use with Server App-V, Server App-V has been optimized to create virtual application packages for applications with the following attributes:

State persisted to local disk
Microsoft Windows Services
Internet Information Services (IIS) Registry
COM+ / DCOM
Text-based Configuration Files
WMI Providers
Microsoft SQL Server Reporting Services
Local Users and Groups
Scheduled Tasks
Microsoft SQL Server Databases

NEW QUESTION: 2

The project manager for XYZ stationers is sequencing the activities for the project to set up a new office. It is known from knowledge of best practices that it is better to wait for the painters to finish painting the walls before the new floors are installed. This is an example of which of the following types of dependency?

- A. Discretionary
- B. Mandatory
- C. External
- D. Precedence

Answer: A

NEW QUESTION: 3

Why manually created users CANNOT log in to activiti-app after configuring authentication/synchronization of users from an external source (ldap/ad)?

- A. The authentication database fallback configuration property for activiti-app needs to be set to true.
- B. The authentication can only be set for either external users (ldap/ad) or the manually created users, not both.
- C. The manually created users have to be activated again in the Identity Management users tab because the initial synchronization to external user data source inactivates all users.
- D. The authentication of manually created users check box needs to be checked in the Identity Management tenant configuration.

Answer: B
