NEW QUESTION: 4

An accountant is required to comply with the provisions of Statements on Standards for Accounting and Review Services when:

- I. Reproducing client-prepared financial statements without modification, as an accommodation to a client.
 - II. Preparing standard monthly journal entries for depreciation and expiration of prepaid expenses.
- A. I only.
 - B. Neither I nor II.
 - C. II only.
 - D. Both I and II.

Answer: B

Explanation:

Explanation/Reference:

Explanation:

Choice "D" is correct. An accountant is required to comply with the provisions of Statements on Standards for Accounting and Review Services when submitting unaudited financial statements. Submission is defined as: presenting to a client or third parties financial statements the accountant has prepared. An accountant who reproduces client-prepared financial statements has not prepared those statements. Preparation of standard monthly journal entries is a bookkeeping service that also does not involve preparation of financial statements.
