NEW QUESTION: 2

When configuring class-based WRED on Cisco routers, which WRED parameter is not user configurable on a Cisco IOS XR but is user configurable on a Cisco IOS and IOS XE?

- A. the maximum threshold
- B. the minimum threshold
- C. the mark probability denominator
- D. the ingress or egress direction where the class-based WRED policy will be applied

Answer: C

Explanation:

Explanation/Reference:

Explanation:

Comparison of Cisco IOS QoS and Cisco IOS-XR QoS

The Cisco IOS-XR software implementation of QoS is basically the same as the QoS implementation on Cisco IOS software, with the following exceptions:

On Cisco IOS-XR software, the bandwidth command can be configured only in egress policies. The following changes have been made to the class-map command on Cisco IOS-XR software:

- Supports 4K per logical router.

Maximum number of match criteria configurable in one class map is eight.

When a class is marked as high priority using the priority command on Cisco IOS-XR software, we recommend that you configure a policer to limit the priority traffic. Limiting the priority traffic will ensure that the priority traffic does not starve all of the other traffic on the line card. Use the police command to explicitly configure the policer.

On Cisco IO-XR software, only one conform-action, exceed-action, or violate-action command can be configured at a time. To configure traffic policing, use the police command. On Cisco IOS-XR software, policy modifications cannot be made on existing policies. Use the policy-map command to remove the policy from all attached interfaces, delete the policy map, and redefine a new policy.

When configuring a policy map on Cisco IOS-XR software, the maximum number of classes configurable in one policy map is 16, which includes both Level 1 and Level 2 classes. To configure a policy map, use the policy-map command.

When WRED is configured on Cisco IOS-XR software, the mark probability in the random-detect command is not configurable--it is always set to 1.

When the random-detect exp command is used on Cisco IOS-XR software, the exponential weighting constant is not configurable and will be programmed automatically by Cisco IOS-XR software.

When access control lists (ACLs) are used in QoS class maps, the underlying deny or permit actions associated with access control entries (ACEs) are ignored. ACEs are used as a classification mechanism in order to provide appropriate QoS behavior as specified in class maps.

Use ACLs that include ACEs with permit actions only.

NEW QUESTION: 3

In the Linux platform, which of the following command to view the map on the array to add the host?

- A. rpm-qagrep iscsi
- B. fdisk-l
- C. lsscsi
- D. iscsiadm-m node

Answer: B

NEW QUESTION: 4

- A. Option D
- B. Option C
- C. Option A
- D. Option B

Answer: D

Explanation:

Explanation

The capture packet function works on an individual context basis. The ACE traces only the packets that belong to the context where you execute the capture command. You can use the context ID, which is passed with the packet, to isolate packets that belong to a specific context. To trace the packets for a single specific context, use the changeto command and enter the capture command for the new context.

To move from one context on the ACE to another context, use the changeto command Only users authorized in the admin context or configured with the changeto feature can use the changeto command to navigate between the various contexts. Context administrators without the changeto feature, who have access to multiple contexts, must explicitly log in to the other contexts to which they have access.

* AAA settings are discrete per context, not shared between contexts.

When configuring command authorization, you must configure each context separately.

* New context sessions started with the changeto command always use the default value "enable_15" username as the administrator identity, regardless of what username was used in the previous context session.
